

Inter-American Committee on Ports Organization of American States

“Promoting the development of competitive, sustainable, secure and inclusive ports in the Americas”

Join the CIP

With nearly 100 public and private sector members from leading port and maritime institutions, the CIP promotes port development by facilitating policy dialog and public and/or private partnerships at the highest level. CIP Associate Members will have opportunities for cooperation with governments, private firms and international organizations, and will become part of a hemispheric community of port and maritime decision-makers.
