Webinar on Port Risk Management: Building Resilience in a Complex Operating Environment

Date: Thursday, July 23, 2026

Time: 12:00 PM – 13:30 PM Washington D.C.

The webinar, organized by the Secretariat of the Inter-American Committee on Ports (CIP) of the Organization of American States (OAS) in collaboration with the Designated Authority of the National Port System (CPN) of Guatemala, will feature the participation of the Latin American Society of Maritime Oil Terminal and Single Point Mooring Operators (SLOM), Grupo Terramar of Peru, and T&T Salvage of the United States. The webinar will explore how ports can strengthen their capacities to identify, assess, and manage risks in an increasingly complex operating environment. Drawing on the expertise of industry specialists, the discussion will examine strategies for prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery from incidents, as well as best practices aimed at enhancing port resilience, ensuring operational continuity, and protecting people, assets, and the environment.
