

2022 AAPA – CIP PORT INDUSTRY AWARD OF EXCELLENCE

1. ABOUT

Ports contribute significantly to global development. As trade facilitators and providers of industrial activities and employment, they integrate the functions of supply chains such as services in logistics, information, and business. Per the International Maritime Organization (IMO), up to 90 percent of the world's trade is carried by sea. In the Americas, the impact of ports as industrial clusters is critical. In the region over 95% of exports are moved through ports, making them a significant driver of economic growth and prosperity, when facilitating trade in a sustainable, resilient, secure, and inclusive manner.

The American Association of Port Authorities (AAPA) and the Secretariat of Inter-American Committee on Ports (CIP) of the Organization of American States (OAS) recognize the importance of a competitive port industry for the economic and social development in the region. Committed to promoting integrated port development, the Latin American Delegation of AAPA and the CIP Secretariat have partnered for the second edition of the Port Industry Award of Excellence to honor ports in the Americas that demonstrate excellence in their operations and contribute to the economic and social prosperity of the societies in which they operate.

2. CATEGORIES

1. Technology and Innovation

For ports and/or terminals that integrate technology and innovative technological solutions into their operations to boost efficiency, increase competitiveness, and improve the quality of services.

2. Port Infrastructure Development

For ports and/or terminals that improve and/or expand their physical port infrastructure with concrete and measurable positive operational and/or economic impacts.

3. Public-Private Partnerships

For ports and/or terminals that promote public-private strategic alliances with stakeholders from different entities or sectors for sustainable and efficient port development.

3. Eligibility

The Award is open to both public and private ports, terminals, and port operators in any of the OAS Member States.

4. Evaluation Criteria

The Jury Committee will consider the following evaluation criteria, among others:

Efficiency and capacity, verified through measurable indicators;

Economic benefits and multiplying effects, for local and/or national economies;

Competitiveness, through trade and supply chain facilitation;

Cooperation and integration with port industry stakeholders to foster operational sustainability.

5. Jury Committee

The Jury Committee is comprised of representatives from:

- Latin American Delegation of the American Association of Port Authorities (AAPA);
- Secretariat of the Inter-American Committee on Ports (CIP) of the OAS;
- Selected AAPA-CIP Subject Matter Experts.

6. Guidelines

Each entry must include the application form, as well as complete informational documents outlined in said form (attached). The documentation may not exceed 10MB and must be submitted electronically (PDF and/or Power Point) in Spanish or English, to Mona Swoboda, CIP Program Manager, mswoboda@oas.org cc. info@aapalatioamerica.com no later than September 26, 2022. You will receive a confirmation of receipt within three (3) business days.

7. Evaluation Process

Each entry will be evaluated through a point system and considering the criteria outlined under item 4. The Jury Committee will recognize those submissions as winners that, in addition to a high point scale, show measurable impact through verifiable indicators. Once the evaluation process is concluded, the winners will be notified directly. All winning institutions will be recognized and announced through official AAPA and CIP-OAS media outlets.

8. The Prize

Awardees will receive recognition throughout the Western Hemisphere through various communication and media channels, including the publication on AAPA and CIP-OAS websites. They will be honored during the 30th Latin American Congress of Ports, in Santos, Brazil, November 28 – 30, 2022. Here, the winners, in addition to having the excellent opportunity to network with other industry leaders, will receive:

- ✓ Award Plaque;
- ✓ Participation free of charge of one (1) representative, as well as participation of one (1) representative at a 50% discount, to attend the 30th Latin American Congress of Ports (please note that attendees are responsible for their own travel and lodging expenses);
- ✓ Recognition at the Award Ceremony, November 30, held in the course of the Conference;
- ✓ Publication of the winning entries in the AAPA and CIP-OAS Newsletters, to over 25,000 points of industry contacts;
- ✓ Hemispheric-wide recognition through all other AAPA and CIP-OAS media outlets.
