Webinar on “Ports in Transition: International Financing for Port-Maritime Decarbonization in Latin America”

October 16, 2025

The Secretariat of the Inter-American Committee on Ports (CIP) is pleased to invite you to the Webinar in Spanish (translation available) "Ports in Transition: International Financing for Port-Maritime Decarbonization in Latin America", on Thursday, October 16, 2025, at 12:00 pm Washington, D.C.

This webinar will feature the participation of the Maritime Technology Cooperation Centre for Latin America (MTCC-Latin America) and the Development Bank of Latin America and the Caribbean (CAF).

The event will analyze strategies to mobilize the capital needed to accelerate the decarbonization of the maritime-port sector, as well as the opportunities offered by market-based measures promoted by the International Maritime Organization (IMO), with special emphasis on their benefits for Latin America.

In addition, financial instruments available to support energy transition projects in ports will be presented, highlighting how these initiatives can strengthen the competitiveness, sustainability, and resilience of port infrastructure in the face of the challenges of climate change.
